LOCAL MARINE WAS IN THICKEST OF FIGHTING DURING GREAT WAR

Lock Four Lad Wears Many Medals and Bears Many Wounds

WAS IN MANY FIERCE BATTLES

With two fingers shot off, wounds on the body, and gassed ,and wearing half a dozen medals and emblems testifying to his bravery in battle, including the highest honor given by the French. Private Chester D. Morgan an unassuming youth of Lock Four, who went through the Vera Cruz and Haiti campaigns before going into battle in the "big fuss" in Europe, was visiting his brother Finley Morgan last week. before returning to a naval hospital in New York. He has been in the service for almost five years.

He is a clean-cut looking young man of about 25 years of age, but his steel-blue eyes, his protruding jaw and his high forehead indicates that he is entitled to be numbered among the "Devil-Dogs" who hurled back the Germans at Chateau-Thierry, the Marne, Belleau Wood, Verdun, Soissons, the Argonne and other points where heavy fighting occurred. Were Private Morgan to walk about without his overcoat he would attract a great deal of attention, for his decorations cover almost the entire left side of his blouse.

After the campaign at Vera Cruz, Mexico, he received his first medal. He attended the Lewis machine gun school in New York and became an expert marksman and ater the Haiti campaign he was again decorated. He went to France June 17, 1917 with the first American soldiers. sailing on the Eitel Frederik, later the DeKalb. After several months of training in France in trench warfare, he "hit the trenches" in March, 1918 and after the battle of Verdun was decorated for bravery.

In the battle of Chateau-Thierry, which he says was the fiercest he witnessed, he received three citations for bravery. He was in the second battle of the Marne and was wounded for the first time going into Soissons. He lost a finger and part of the thumb on the left hand, which was shot off clean.

He sustained a wound in the side and several flesh wounds. He was decorated with the Croix-de-Guerre after this battle. He went through the Belleau-Wood fight and after that was decorated with the French Legion of Honor emblem, which is a regimental citation, and the highest honor accorded by the French. He also wears a sharpshooter's badge.

Private Morgan was out of the fighting for eight weeks because of his injuries, when he went back for what the Marines call "their seconds" meaning any additional wounds that they may sustain. Morgan's "seconds" consisted of a bad gassing in the Argonne. just before the armistice was

PROVIDES FOR PAYING A MONTHLY LICENSE

Senator Schantz, of Lehigh county. presented a bill in the senate providing that liquor license fees be paid by the month, instead of in a lump sum at the beginning of the license year. This would permit saloon keepers to discontinue business any time and would automatically cut off receipts from this cource when legislation made it unlawful to sell intoxicating bererages. It is said there will be little if any opposition to such legislation this session.

Regional Conferences For Sunday Schools

"The New Day Demands" will be the theme of six regional conferences that are being held under the auspices of Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association in various parts of the state. The conference for the 13 western counties of the state will be held in the East Liberty Presbyterian church. Penn and Highland avenue, Pittsurgb, on Friday and Saturday. Delegates are expected from Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Butler, Bedford, Cambria, Fayette, Greene, Indiana, Lawrence, Washington and Westmoreland counties. The program is arranged specially for county and district leaders. Friday evening will be an open meeting with two speakers, to which all Sunday school workers are invited. The State association field and staff will direct the presentations and discussions. The speakers include many of the leading Sunday school workers of the state.

INFLUENZA MADE MANY ORPHANS

R. C. Buchanan. president of the board of county poor directors on Wednesday took five children from the Penobscot mining section to the St Paul's orphanage at Idlewood. They were the children of George Huma. a Penobscot miner, and his wife Mary Huma, both of whom died of influenza within a few hours of each other on the 2nd of last December. Since the death of the parents the board has been taking care of the children pending arrangements for their future.

It is estimated that between 75 and 80 children in the Avella section of the county have been orphaned by the influenza, a large number of these being under care of the poor board. The number made orphans in the county as a result of the influenza scourge is 126 according to the poor director's estimate.

NEW SUPPLY BOAT IS ALMOST READY

The new express supply boat of the Carnegie Steel company. mention of which was made in the Mail some time ago, will be placed in commission within a few days. The new boat, which has not yet been named, is having the final touches applied at the boatyards of R. C. Price in the Allegheny river, where it was built. It is 12 feet wide, 64 feet long and 32 inches deep. It is equipped with a four-cylinder gasoline engine, which will develop 50 horsepower.

The new craft is sheeted below the water line and like other boats of the company is painted a battleship gray It is said that the price is about $10,000 The new boat will be engaged in carrying supplies from Pittsburg to the commissary boat at Clairton, where the boats of the company receive their stores and equipment

PROPOSES A HIGHER LICENSE FOR AUTOS

The question of the reorganization of the highways department of Pennsylvania came to the fore in the legislative session at Harrisburg on Wednesday. Senator Frye, chairman of the committee on Public Roads and Highways. said he would have a conference in the immediate future with Highway Commissioner Sadler as to legislation which will be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of the constitutional amendment appropriating $50,000,000 for the improvement of the highways of the state. Until complete reorganization of the highway department is effected it is unlikely any definite action will be taken on the amendment. Senator Eyre believes the administration will favor improvement of the trunk roads of the state first.

In this connection Senator Eyre has introduced a bill on Wednesday increasing the license rates on motor trucks from 50 to 100 per cent and more and increasing the license on pleasure cars from 5 to 25 per cent according to their speed and cost. The purpose of the measure is to discourage the use of extra heavy trucks, which the present day roads great destruction to prevent speeding by both trucks and pleasure cars and to create an annual sinking fund of $4,000,000 for the redemption of the $50,000,000 of road bonds.

ERECTION OF MEMORIAL HALL WORK FOR HISTORICAL SOCIETY

APPOINTED TO MANY IMPORTANT COMMITTEES

The standing committees of the Pennsylvania state senate were announced on Wednesday. While no chairmanship is given to the representative from the Washington and Greene counties, Joseph A. Herron is given places on the following important committees: Agriculture, Banks, Building and Loan Associations, federal relations, game and fisheries. legislative apportionment, new counties and county seats. public roads and highways, public supply of light, heat and water.

ROAD PROGRAM HAS NOT BEEN OUTLINED

On Monday morning last a delegation of citizens of North Strabane township appeared before the county commissioners in an effort to have the road leading from the Hill church to Wylandville improved. A little over a mile of this highway has been improved with brick, but the rest of it is the usual clay road, which becomes very bad in the winter and spring. It is an important road, crossing the B. & O. at Gamble station. Another delegation also visited the commissioners on behalf of some road improvements in the Burgettstown section.

However, the county commissioners could not give either of these delegations any direct answers. The road policy that will be followed this year has not been determined upon. as there are several factors that will enter into it. In the first place. nothing can be done unless there is a bond issue and the sale of bonds this year in view of the past Liberty Loans and the one that will be made in April. may be very poor. Then another important factor is the labor question. If it still continues to be high, it will make road building prohibitive.

"DRY" RESOLUTION BEFORE ASSEMBLY

A joint resolution to ratify the national prohibition amendment was presented in the house of representatives at Harrisburg on Wednesday by Representative John W. Vickerman of Allegheny county. It was the first bill introduced in the assembly this session. The resolution was introduced after Secretary of the Commonwealth Cyrus E. Woods had certified to both the house and senate the proposed amendment as adopted by congress. As a similar resolution has been presented in the senate an early vote is expected thereon.

Suggestion Made That The County Organization Assist in Work

WOULD HAVE MANY FEATURES

It has been suggested by a number of persons interested in the proposed Memorial hall, in or near Washington to honor of the soldiers of the county. that the only proper organization to take this matter up and push it through is the Washington County Historical Society. It is claimed that this is a proper work for this organization and that its members would take a deeper interest in the movement than any others.

It is said that an effort will be made to secure some special speakers to present this matter to the society at its next meeting on the 20th of February. This meeting will no doubt prove very interesting, as in addition to the speakers who are expected to touch on the Memorial hall question, one will be present who will talk on local history.

Samuel Amspoker, Esq., president of the ihstorical society, is very much in favor of the organization taking up the work, and believes the building, if erected, would be a most appropriate testimonial to the soldiers of Washington county.

One of the features of the building would be the names of all the soldiers from the county, with a short biographical sketch of each, would be inscribed on bronze or other enduring tablets. Another feature suggested is a complete list of the names of all residents of the county at the time the building is erected, which should be kept in a suitable book provided for that purpose. It is also suggested that this proposed building should contain a large auditorium, capable of seating at least 2,000 people, and in addition there should be rooms for various soldiers' and patriotic organizations.

A feature of the building could be a trophy room. in which souvenirs brought from the battlefields in France could beplaced, together with a short history of each. Other historical features would also be centered there, which would make the building a continual object of interest to the people of the county.

WOMEN AT WORK

During the war, millions of women have been at work in vocations into which they have never before been called,—in Munition Factories, Chemical Works. Metal Works, Street Railways, and as Ambulance Drivers, Barbers and Elevator Girls. Undoubtedly thousands of others have longed to serve in this way ,but because of female ailments, which had fastened upon them, were not able to do so. Women in this conditions should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and find health and strength, as thousands of others have so done.

COAL MEN WANT TO INCREASE LOCKINGS

Members of the Pittsburg Coal Exchange held a conference with Col. Herton W. Stickle on Tuesday in the offices of the United States Engineers Pittsburg, to consider ways and means to increase the amount of coal passing through Lock No. 3. Monongahela river, while repairs to the outer lock are being made. It was suggested by some that single lockings should be substituted for double-headers while the repairs were being made, which plan was opposed by others. The government officials hope to have the repairs to the outer chamber at No. 3 completed in a short time and if this can be accomplished congestion at No. 3, which has prevailed or so long, will be over.

JOY RIDE HAS A FATAL ENDING

What is supposed to have been a joy ride had a fatal termination Monday night on the brick road near Birkhamers, between Mingo and Finleyville. A big Haynes car, owned by John Christ, Sr., and driven by John Christ, Jr., went over an embankment near the sharp turn at that place, turning completely over and one of the occupants killed. There were seven men in the car, John Christ, Jr., Gust Katz and Oscar Malakoff being three of them. It is said the car was running at a high rate of speed at the time and as it was somewhat foggy the driver missed the turn and drove the car over the embankment. It is also intimated that the occupants of the car had been drinking. The dead man, whose identity has not been disclosed, was taken in charge by Deputy Shepler of Finleyville, but up to last night had failed to secure any information regarding him. The accident happened shortly after 10 o'clock Monday night.

A BIT OF ADVICE

First—Don't Delay.. Second—Don't Experiment

If you suffer from backache; headaches or dizzy spells; if you rest poorly and are languid in the morning; if the kidney secretions are irregular and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. In such cases the kidneys often need help.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for kidney trouble. They are recommended by thousands. Can Charleroi residents desire more convincing proof of their effectiveness than the statement of a Charleroi citizen who has used them and willingly testifies to their worth?

Mrs. J. W. Kimmins, 714 Fallowfield, avenue, says: "I don't know of any reason why a person should not recommend anything they know is good. therefore I give this recommendation for Doan's Kidney Pills for they cured me of kidney trouble some time ago. I advise others to give this medicine a trial."

A hold-up occurred at 11:45 Tuesday evening near Fifteenth street in Monessen when Mike Yezerinac, steward of the Croatian Club was robbed by three colored men. Yezerinac was within 15 feet of his own home when he was accosted by the three men, one of who held a revolver on him while the others went through his clothing taking his money and valuable papers. After robbing him the thieves marched the man back up town before allowing him his liberty. Later a colored man named Ed Rentz was arrested and placed in the lockup. This morning he was given a preliminary hearing before Burgess Stewart who held him pending a further investigation.

Making Airplane Invisible.

Many efforts have been made to make the airplane invisible from the earth when it is soaring through the ether. One idea calls for the use of transparent material, at least for all purposes where a canvas covering is used at present, such as the wings and the fuselage. One of the latest ideas of the kind is said to be an airplane which uses noninflammable celluloid for the wings and other parts, and when flying at a few hundred feet elevation the apparatus is quite invisible, according to reports. A new muffling box on the motor serves to deaden the sound. One advantage of the transparence is that observations can be made in all directions.

Directing Boy Life.

Many people know that boys in their teens are active and restless. The secret of good leadership is in turning their activities in a right direction and in combining the three essential elements of play, work and worship. Millet's picture, "The Angelus," with its peasants working in the field and the church in the background, teaches us the relation that exists between work and worship, but the modern picture of a war garden, with its ball field opposite and the church dome towering up a few blocks away impresses us with the connection which exists between not only work and worship, but play as well.—Montreal Herald.

Tannin in Willow Bark.

The barks of most willows contain sufficient tannin to make them valuable for tanning purposes. In Europe, and particularly in Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, France and parts of Russia, the highest grade of tannin is obtained from this source. Russia alone uses annually no less than 20,000,000 pounds of willow bark. Many special kinds of leather, such as the Muscovy (Russia) leather and Danish glove leather, are prepared exclusively with tannin from willow bark, which imparts a characteristic odor, a light color, and considerable pliability. In Germany, Austria and France the use of this bark is increasing steadily.

Performers and Teachers.

The greatest performers have not been the best teachers. The two branches of music are quite distinct. It is a fact that few great performers have been successful teachers. It is one thing to learn, and quite another thing to impart to others what you have learned yourself. The gifted teacher is as rare as the gifted performer; both subjects may be acquired, but it is seldom that any one person becomes distinguished as a performer and also a teacher.

THE ROAD SITUATION

In his inaugural address on Tuesday Governor Sproul, in speaking of the highways of the State and particularly with reference to motor traffic thereon had this to say as to the policy of his administration toward this feature of transportation which has grown to such proportions in the commonwealth during the past few years:

"In considering matters relative to our highways it is necessary to give some attention to the regulation of automobile traffic. The conditions growing out of the war made the greatly extended use of motor truck transportation a necessity and with the development of the country this great agent in handling passengers and materials must be reckoned with more and more. We must extend every facility for the business vehicle, but we must also regarding its use. It was never intended that vehicles as large and as heavy as railway cars should travel the public roads at high speed and the law provides limits to the weight and size of such trucks. No road which can be built except it be constructed of steel can stand the stress and impact of such trucks moving at from 10 to 30 miles an hour and weighing with their loads from 15 to 20 tons. The state cannot furnish especial highways for this kind of traffic and it is unreasonable and unfair to the other users of the roads and to the public who pay for them, to permit the laws to be violated, our roads to be destroyed and our peoples lives endangered by such selfish operations. Teeth must be put into the laws governing these conditions and now that the war is over and the only excuse for tolerating these abuses has passed, we must put a stop to them."

These words of the Governor will find a heavy response from the people of the State. They do not want to see truck transportation decreased any, but they do want to see all road regulations lived up to, that highways once constructed shall not be destroyed by selfish individuals who look to personal profit regardless of the rights of the public.

THE HEALTH SITUATION

It is unfortunate that conditions in Charleroi are such that the Health Board has found it necessary to prohibit the opening of our schools until such time as the malady which is now sweeping over the community has passed away.

Our schools have already lost eleven weeks of the term, and this additional loss, which is hard to determine at the present time, will only [illegible]

The [illegible] voting [illegible] of the time to essential [illegible] it might have been possible to have completed the work of the term in good shape, but this latest action of the Health Board will leave the [illegible] high and dry and with but little prospect of being able to carry them through.

The Board of Health is acting as its best judgment dictates. We may and we may not agree with it, but as it is supreme in the situation the only thing to do is to acquiesce. It is the hope that conditions may improve so rapidly that our schools may reopen and the work that has been [illegible] delayed be again [illegible]

[illegible] the present time require a total of [illegible] tons of bituminous coal every [illegible] hours for their operation. If these ovens would run steadily every day it would mean a total consumption of [illegible] tons per year, or to use the old standard of measurement as applied to river shipments, almost 87,000,000 bushels per year. This immense tonnage is away above the average annual shipments that were formerly made by coal operators in the Monongahela to the lower river markets at Cincinnati, Louisville and New Orleans [illegible] making [illegible] at the present time [illegible] such a vast amount of coal to supply their needs.

It was Andrew Carnegie who said, we believe, some years ago, that the time would come when Pittsburg and her industries would require all of the coal production of this district, and this time appears to be almost, if not already, here. With industries increasing and new by-product ovens in contemplation, the consumption of coal within the next few years promises to exceed the most sanguine dreams of those who pin their faith to the prosperity of this district.

With a new Governor and a new Legislature let us hope the new administration at Harrisburg will live up to the expectations of the people. We should be progressive in Pennsylvania and if any field of endeavor is to be pushed with vigor at this time, it is the permanent improvement of highways. Governor Sproul is a champion of such public conveniences, and we trust his administration will be featured by giving the Keystone State the best system of roads of any State in the Union.

Spiders' Strength.

The amazing strength of spiders is shown in a number of well-authenticated instances. Thus we have an instance of a [illegible] inch spider catching a two-inch fish. The spider was of the ground or wolf family. A scientist came upon it struggling with a fish on the edge of a little pool. Its claws were buried in the fish's tail; it had the tail out of the water, but the head still remained underneath. The spider struggled to pull the fish up the bank, and the fish struggled desperately to draw the spider into the pool. For ten minutes the scientist watched this silent and deadly fight. Then he hurried away for a bottle in which to put the combatants when he captured them. He was gone about half an hour, and on his return the end had come. The fish was dead and the spider was slowly dragging its victim away.

BROTHER ACCUSED OF WHITE SLAVERY

[illegible] Rose Fusco, aged 14, of Monongahela [illegible] story now her 19 years old brother [illegible] of [illegible] for $1,500. United States Commissioner Roger Knox in the federal building at Pittsburg on Wednesday afternoon held John Fusco her brother, under $1,500 bail and Bettoni who is aged 25 and also of Monongahela, under $2,000 bail for action of the Federal grand jury on a charge of white slavery. The girl, accompanied by her father, made formal complaint Wednesday. Fusco's father refused to speak to him after the hearing. Both defendants were committed in default of bail.

Rev. Father S. A. Welsh, assistant pastor of St. Jerome's church, is spending a three weeks' vacation in eastern and southern points, for the benefit of his health. He spent a few days in Atlantic City and will spend some time in Belmont, N. C., before he returns to Charleroi.

LOCAL MARINE WAS IN OF FIGHTING DURING WAR

signed. He says it blinded him for several weeks and that his heart was slightly affected, but he says the effects of the gas has almost disappeared.

The French war cross was awarded Morgan for his brave act in going over "No-Man's Land" with machine gun bullets flying about and safely carrying Intelligence Captain Mathews back, and also Lieutenant Jackson. Had these officers been captured they undoubtedly would have been tortured by the Huns, who were anxious to get valuable information. Morgan said it took him not more than 15 minutes to bring them back but it seemed like a week.

Asked if he had endured any hardships Morgan said "a few." Then he told of smoking grass and coffee grounds, of going for several days without any sleep or food and the like. He said the boys did not complain, particularly if they could get a Heinie once in a while. He said he never saw such spirit as the Americans displayed. French wine, he said, helped a little when food was scarce. He spoke in high terms of the Y. M. C. A., the Red Cross, the Salvation Army and the K. of C.

Morgan arrived in the United States December 1st. After some days in the hospital at Pelham Bay he gave several addresses for the Red Cross in New York. Generally speaking, Morgan said, the Germans were good fighters while they were massed, but by themselves or with only half a dozen or so about them they lost their nerve and showed the yellow.

At Chateau-Thierry the Marines waded through the crack Prussian Guards. "It was a terrible fight," said the soldier. "We went into it with 8,000 men and came out of it with only 2,000. On all sides men were dropping like tenpins after a ball from the hand of an expert. We lost 6,000 men in two days. At times we felt badly and were weak, but thoughts of our comrades and of the atrocities of the Germans spurred us on and we finally went through, though badly battered. It was here that the Huns termed us 'Devil Dogs' Out of 262 in our Company only 60 escaped, and I was lucky enough to be one of the 60.

The worst feature of the whole thing was that a fellow could not help all the wounded. I heard a big fellow asking for help one day. Looking about I saw Palmey, the great western football star. He had been blown almost to pieces and as I reached down to console him he passed away. Unlike the regular hunting season, there was no limit on the number of Huns a soldier was allowed to get, so we went after them hard

At a hospital in Brest, France, Morgan asked a wounded Hun Captain what he thought of the Marines. The Hun replied that the "Devil Dog" had put the fear of God in the Germans. "We took many German prisoners who," said Morgan, "actually believed that the Germans had captured New York and other seaport towns."

Morgan speaks French, Spanish and Creole. He expects to locate at Lock Four when discharged.

TO HOLD INQUEST ON MINGO ACCIDENT

[illegible] District Attorney [illegible] W. Burns [illegible] inquest probably some time next week, to inquire into the death of the man killed late Monday night last in an automobile accident at Birkhamer's near Mingo on the improved road between Monongahela and Finleyville.

The name of the dead man has not been learned yet. Deputy Coroner Shepler, who took charge of the remains after the accident, failed to learn from the other occupants of the car the man's name. It was learned on Wednesday from John Christ, one of the occupants of the car, that the young man killed was an Italian, that his first name was [illegible] and that he lived in Ellsworth. He had known him for some time, but had known him as August.

Christ, who was driving the car, stated that they were not running very fast; that if they had been, all would have been killed or badly hurt. At the place where the accident took place is a sharp curve. The car, he said, skidded and struck a mail post at the road leading to the Birkhamer home. In attempting to get the car back on the road, it shot across and turned over near a telephone pole on the other side. The man who was killed and who was seated beside Christ, was thrown out against the pole.

WILL DEDICATE NEW M. E. CHURCH

Uniontown's handsomest church—the Asbury Methodist—on Beeson avenue, just completed at a cost of about $200,000 is to be dedicated with pomp and ceremony, to which all former pastors have been invited on Sunday, February 2nd. The edifice has been under construction over three years, being held up following the failure of the First National Bank of Uniontown. It is of brown stone construction and of Tudor Gothic architecture. A $15,00 pipe organ has been installed, while the three stained glass windows were purchased at a cost averaging about $5,000 each. The auditorium is 55x 58 feet and has a seating capacity of 1,000.

ARE NOW FEATURING ALL RIVER NEWS

Of late the Pittsburg papers, particularly the morning editions, are making a great feature of river news than for many years past. Formerly when shipments of coal to the south were at their height all papers gave much space to river activities, but in later years the feature was neglected. Increased interest in water transportation has caused a change in the situation and now river news is quite a feature.

MUST BE ACTIVE TO GET THE CANAL

In an address at the luncheon of the Pittsburg Real Estate Board [illegible], W. H. Stevenson, president of the Lake Erie and Ohio River Canal Board, said that unless the people of Pittsburg promptly do everything possible to get Congress to authorize the construction of the canal by appropriating funds for the purpose, that the people of Ohio will beat Pittsburg to it by putting through a project which will mean the building of a canal connecting Lake Erie with the Ohio river well down toward Cincinnati. The Chamber of Commerce of that city, and like organizations in Toledo and other Ohio cities are behind the scheme and it is to be brought before Congress shortly. At present, Mr. Stevenson said, Ohio stands better in Washington than Pennsylvania does, and as over $500,600 has been spent to Erie and Ohio River Canal and all surveys for it have been made, Pittsburg cannot afford to have a canal constructed elsewhere, and Congress is not likely to approve the Pittsburg canal if it first approves the one backed by Cincinnati.
